

Somatomax® is a dietary supplement used as a nighttime formula to enhance natural sleep and to assist the body in the release of natural hormonal compounds, including Growth Hormone (hGH). Somatomax® may also be used in smaller serving amounts as a daytime formula for a feeling of well-being, increased energy and to enhance libido and sexual function.

In conjunction with proper diet and exercise, Somatomax® may also contribute to an increase in muscle and a reduction in fat. Clinical studies on Somatomax® significantly stimulates hGH and modulates Cortisol, which may make Somatomax® a particularly effective supplement for athletes desiring to increase muscle mass.

Somatomax® may provide the following benefits:

- Increased muscle and decreased body fat †
- Increased energy and work capacity †
- Increased libido and sexual energy †
- Increased IGF-1 levels and bone density †
