Some fatty acids are essential and should be taken every day for nutritional health, but many people do not like the familiar "burpiness" they often experience with fish oil. Omega-3 Fish Oil gives you all of the advantages of fish oil - including supporting cellular, heart and metabolic health - but without the aftertaste that can turn you off to fish oil supplements.* This unique supplement is enteric coated, which means the active ingredients bypass the stomach and are digested in the small intestine, which can minimize the aftertaste.

Fish Oil contains important nutrients, including EPA and DHA, which support healthy circulation.* This product also contains mixed natural tocopherols to preserve freshness.

WARNING: If you are pregnant, nursing, taking any medications or planning any medical procedure, consult your doctor before use.
