SCIENCE CORNER

Colostrum is a natural occurring organic lacteal secretion rich in protein, specifically immune proteins classed as immunoglobulins (IGG, IGA, IGM), which provide the newborn, or those using colostrum, with these basic components of the immune system. The Colostrum we source is a pure and natural product that is collected and dried under strict government regulated protocols with the milk being obtained within the first 6-12 hours after a birth of a calf. It is collected from selected herds and control processed to meet all good manufacturing practices (GMP) of the USDA for a biological ingredient.*
