Maqui berries (Aristotelia chilensis) are native to the Patagonia region of South America, growing wild in what many regard as one of the most pristine places on the planet. The unique climate and diverse soil content inherent to this vast, mountainous region of Chile is believed to play a central role in Maqui's extraordinary antioxidant content. For centuries, indigenous cultures have relied on this remarkable fruit as a source of both nourishment and natural wellness. Today, scientific research has taught us that Maqui berries possess among the highest known ORAC value (Oxygen Radical Absorption Capacity) of any superfruit on the planet. NOW® Maqui Superfruit Antioxidant Juice typically contains about 50,000 ORAC per bottle.

The exceptional free radical fighting properties associated with Maqui can be attributed to its naturally-occurring anthocyanins - a powerful class of antioxidants that have been shown highly effective in quenching free radicals.

NOW® Maqui Superfruit Antioxidant Juice is a delicious, nutrient-packed juice that can be taken by anyone looking to increase their overall antioxidant potential. For even greater antioxidant support, we've enhanced NOW® Maqui with Acai, Pomegranate, Blueberry and Raspberry Juices.*
