The rich emerald foliage of the Stevia plant has been traditionally cultivated by the Guarani Indians of Paraguay where it is known as “sweetleaf” and “sweet herb”. Stevia naturally contains a distinct phytochemical called rebaudioside, which accounts for some of its unique properties. Our Stevia Extract contains no sugar or artificial flavors and is an excellent natural addition to all kinds of foods and beverages. This unique product also contains inulin fiber, an important component of a healthy diet.
