As well as joint comfort.*

Glucosamine is naturally produced in the human body and is an important constituent of connective tissues, such as joints. Flex Mobility™ also contains FlavanFlex™, a patented herbal extract that has been scientifically shown to support a healthy inflammatory response through its effects on COX and LOX enzyme activity. COX and LOX enzymes help to regulate activity of signalling molecules that are critical for the maintenance of normal immune and inflammatory function. In addition, Boswellin® and Devil's Claw have been included for their ability to support healthy inflammatory responses through these and other mechanisms. With Glucosamine and complementary herbal extracts, NOW® Flex Mobility™ provides comprehensive support for joint structure, as well as joint comfort.*

SUGGESTED USAGE: As a dietary supplement, take 2 Vcaps® 2 times daily with meals or on an empty stomach. Consider taking this product in combination with NOW® Hyaluronic Acid, MSM and Serrazimes®.
