

Benefits of Vitamin C

The following are some of the benefits of buffered vitamin C with bioflavonoids:

Vitamin C carries a reputation as one of the most powerful forms of natural immune system support.

Bioflavonoids are naturally occurring nutrients found in plant life. Studies suggest bioflavonoids contain properties that may enhance the effects of vitamin C.

Rose hips contain a substantial dose of vitamin C and are often used for immune system support. Therefore, combining rose hips and vitamin C increases the power and efficacy of both supplements.
