SUGGESTED USE: As a dietary supplement, mix one scoop (5 g) in your food or beverage, as desired, one to four times per day. Scoop included.

WARNING: Do not take this product if you are pregnant or nursing, hypoglycemic or diabetic. Discontinue use if you experience gastrointestinal discomfort, nausea or headache.

Ribose, a naturally occurring substance found in all living cells, is the fundamental building block of the cellular energy compound known as ATP. We must maintain healthy levels of ATP for our hearts, muscles and other tissues to maintain basic body functions. The heart muscle requires more ATP than any other muscle, and ribose is a key substance that regulates and restores the volume of ATP that is available to this most important of all muscles, ensuring you the energy to live life to the fullest.
