

Do your body a favor with cocoa flavanols...

Cocoa flavanols are naturally-occurring phytonutrients in the cocoa bean, and numerous scientific studies have demonstrated that they promote healthy blood flow from head to toe[†].

And since CocoaVia® supplement delivers 375 mg of cocoa flavanols per serving, you can help keep your arteries flexible simply by adding it to drinks or foods, whatever your heart desires!

CocoaVia® Original supplement is flexible enough to mix with a wide variety of options. It can be enjoyed in almost any flavored food or beverage, including sports drinks, fruit juices, Greek yogurt, coffee, and smoothies.

Directions

Add 1 packet to a beverage or food of choice, such as 12-20 oz. of sports drink. Stir or shake vigorously until well mixed.

Scientists have discovered some of nature's most powerful plant-based nutrients, and they're found inside the cocoa pod.

They're called cocoa flavanols, and numerous scientific studies have demonstrated that they promote healthy blood flow from head to toe[†].

The cocoa flavanols in CocoaVia® cocoa extract supplement help your cardiovascular system deliver oxygen and nutrients throughout your body. When your blood is circulating properly, vital organs from your head to your toes get the oxygen and nutrients they need to help you feel and stay your best.

CocoaVia® supplement is backed by more than two decades of scientific research by leading universities around the world and the scientists at Mars, Incorporated. They developed the patented Cocoapro® process, which gently extracts cocoa flavanols in their purest form, from the highest-quality cocoa beans available.

CocoaVia® supplement delivers 375 mg of cocoa flavanols in every serving – the highest concentration of cocoa flavanols available in a cocoa extract supplement today.
