BCAAs may be the most important aminos for athletes and bodybuilders as they are directly involved in protein synthesis at the genetic level.* BCAAs can also be broken down and used as an energy source to fuel exercise as needed.* BCAA Powder supplies a precise, clinically studied ratio of Leucine, Valine and Isoleucine (45/30/25).

BCAA Powder can be taken after training or athletic competition to support recovery and help you reach your fitness goals.*

Use in conjunction with an intense daily exercise program and a balanced diet including an adequate caloric intake.
