

Directions: Take 20 or more drops of this potent extract under the tongue as often as needed. As a natural, wild product, color, taste, and consistency may vary.

Elderol is the only raw, wild, purple elderberry extract available. Elderol is a top source of powerful antioxidants. The berries are handpicked from the most remote regions of northern Canada and immediately cold-pressed. Elderol is a source of hemagglutinin protein, which provides healthy support for cell walls, making them difficult to penetrate. Take Elderol daily with Oreganol P73 when you need powerful immune support.
