

Clinical OPC® Superior Absorption for Full Benefit

Oligomeric Proanthocyanidins (OPCs) are the powerful health promoting nutrients in grape seed extract. Researchers have found that grape seed extract is one of the most promising botanical extracts in the world for a diverse array of health applications.

Clinical OPC has super-antioxidant power. In a comparison to 7 other grape seed extracts, Clinical OPC had the strongest ORAC value of 2,103,300 per 100 grams.

Clinical OPC features an array of low molecular weight, tannin-free OPCs and unique compounds not found in the pine bark extract.

French Grape Seed Extract VX1® OPCs—Tannin Free For Greater Absorption!

Clinical OPC® supplies only low molecular weight, tannin-free OPCs for high absorbability.

Many other grape seed extracts include high levels of tannins—OPCs with a high molecular weight—which have limited absorption and few health benefits.
