Source Naturals ENERGEVITY® provides well-researched, critical nutrients to support mitochondrial energy and the ability to generate ATP, the body's energy molecule, for an active life. Every day, up to 2,000 mitochondria in each of our 100 trillion cells generate our body weight in ATP, supporting essential metabolic processes of highly energy-dependent organs, like the heart, brain, liver, and muscles. As we age we lose mitochondria, leading scientists to theorize that mitochondrial loss may explain why older people experience less energy, vigor, and health. Source Naturals ENERGEVITY provides premium nutrients like CoQ10, lipoic acid, acetyl L-carnitine, BioPQQ®, and B vitamins to benefit the mitochondria and their vital role in energy production.*
