Nutritionally Supports Healthy HGH Production, Healthy Testosterone Production, Healthy Sexual Function and Healthy Brain Function

Discover the revitalizing, synergistic benefits of naturally improving both testosterone and HGH levels together. Men rave about the revitalizing energy, improved strength, stamina and libido they've achieved by naturally boosting their testosterone levels. Just as excited are the men who have increased their endurance, enhanced their coordination and improved metabolism and weight control by naturally boosting human growth hormone (HGH) levels. Testosterone and HGH work via different physiological pathways, but their combined effects are even greater than one would expect from their sum! Nature's Plus® GHT Male™ is the ultimate testosterone- and HGH-boosting supplement for total body vitality!

GHT MALE delivers powerful nutrients that help:

- maximize free radical elimination
- improve overall amino acid nutrition
- supercharge L-dopa levels
- neutralize the free fatty acid blockade
- improve arginine hormone signaling
- enhance blood sugar control
- increase insulin-like growth factor 1
- increase osteoblast and chondrocyte activity
- enhance muscle gene expression
