Our pure coconut-based MCT Oil (medium chain triglycerides) not only provides 1 gram of medium chain fatty acids that started the MCT oil craze, it also contains Caprylic and Capric acid, compounds found in coconuts that are thought to support optimal health.* Palm oil, a leading constituent in many other MCT oils on the market, is often harvested from native palm forests, contributing to the destruction of the last remaining habitats for orangutans. So enjoy our best in class coconut-based MCT Oil and send a karmic high five to the great red ape.
