Studies have shown that enzymes taken between meals can be absorbed into the bloodstream. In the bloodstream, amylase may support a healthy autoimmune response. Meanwhile, protease can digest the foreign proteins that trigger autoimmune response. AllerFree™ provides rich levels of these enzymes along with burdock root, nettle leaf and quercetin, which have long been used in natural health systems to support healthy immune responses to allergens.*

Suggested Use: Two capsules once daily or as needed. Always take on an empty stomach with 8 oz. of water.

Storage: Keep closed in a cool, dry place.

Caution: Keep all supplements out of children's reach.
