

Noni (Morinda citrifolia), Indian Mulberry, has been known throughout Polynesia for more than 2000 years. Noni's importance and extensive use among native Tahitians & Polynesians supports the notion that noni contains valuable compounds used to promote healthy living.

Since 1999 our growers personally pick out the best lots of noni and the rest is offered to the open-market. We pay a little more for our raw product, but it's worth it.

A one ounce serving taken one to three times daily, of our all natural, pure organic noni provides powerful antioxidants, vitamins, natural energy, and immune system enhancers.
