The amino acid L-Citrulline is a substrate in the cycle that includes L-arginine and L-ornithine. L-Citrulline supports nitric oxide production, which is important for blood pressure regulation, immune function, healing, as well as helping the liver detoxify ammonia.* Quatrefolic® (Methyl Folate) is the 4th generation of methyl folate and can cross the blood-brain barrier. Methyl Folate is needed to support cardiovascular and neurological health as well as proper cell division.* Folate and Gamma Tocopherol work with L-Citrulline to support the production of nitric oxide.*

Keep out of the reach of children.
