

Are You Getting Enough B12?

Normally, vitamin B12 is easily attained from foods like fish, meat, poultry, eggs, and milk. But if you're a vegetarian or are unable to absorb B12 from food, you're likely not getting the amount you need, which can leave you feeling fatigued.

B12 Infusion™ dietary supplement uses the most natural, bio-identical form of vitamin B12, which is immediately available for use in the body and doesn't have to be converted first.* One daily dose of B12 Infusion provides 1,000 micrograms of B12—a clinical dose that absorbs quickly to help keep you energized and kick fatigue...fast!*

If pregnant, nursing, or taking prescription drugs, consult your healthcare practitioner prior to use.

ETI is an FDA-registered Drug Establishment.
