Our Colloidal Silver is derived from 99.99% bioactive silver ions. It maintains its natural positive ionic charge – making it optimally effective within the body. Our silver particles are delivered in the nano-size range, with an average particle size of 0.8 nanometers. This vast reduction in size allows for peak absorption and efficacy. †

Colloidal Silver provides broad-spectrum immune support. It can enhance immunity in times of need, as well as assistance in the maintenance of a strong immune system. †
