Purity & Quality Standards

These 100% raw forms of organic algae are USDA certified organic and grown following the most rigid purity and quality standards. They are cultivated in an environmentally pristine region of South India with plentiful sunlight, 100% purified-water, and plant-based fertilizers, far away from agricultural & industrial pollutants, and human settlements. After farming, they are dried at low temperatures to preserve the enzymatic property, nutritional value, and bioavailability for maximum efficacy. Organic Blue-Green Blend is a potent source of nutrients that promotes systematic health at the cellular level.
