Amazing Formulas™ Uridine is one of five nucleosides that make up a nucleic acid. It is an important component of RNA and plays a big role in the central nervous system.* Uridine works in conjunction with the omega-3 fatty acid docosahexaenoic acid (DHA) and the B vitamin-like compound choline for the synthesis of membrane phospholipids and brain synapses.* Uridine may enhance some brain cholinergic functions.* Uridine also supports the health and function of liver mitochondria.*
