Other Ingredients: Whole Rice Concentrate, Vegetable Cellulose Capsule, Rice Extract Blend, Citric Acid (from Non-GMO Tapioca) and Silica.

Discussion: Copper is a vital component of several enzymes responsible for energy production, immune system function, red blood cell formation and connective tissue maintenance. The minerals in this product are reacted with aspartic acid, whole rice concentrate, citric acid and glycine to create a more absorbable chelated complex. If this product is taken for an extended period of time, be aware of your need for other minerals, especially zinc and iron.
