

Want Better Memory? It's Not Magic, It's Science!

Let's look at some of the science behind Neutein™. The second clinical study using the spearmint antioxidants found in Neutein™ was 90 days long and included 90 people.

Quality of Working Memory

The researchers found that with daily use the antioxidants in Neutein™ can improve working memory and spatial working memory.

Working memory is the scientific term synonymous for multi-tasking while spatial memory is the part of your memory that is responsible for remembering where things are around you... Where did I put my keys again?
