

A cultured extract of hybridized medicinal mushroom mycelia (roots), AHCC® is one of the world's most researched specialty immune supplements, supported by over 20 human clinical studies conducted at top-tier universities.

AHCC has been shown to:

- Maintain optimal NK cell & T-cell activity*
- Enhance cytokine production*
- Promote optimal macrophage activity*
- Increase dendritic cell activity & numbers*

Unlike other medicinal mushroom extracts, AHCC has a very low molecular weight and is rich in alpha-glucans — increasing absorption and efficacy. AHCC has been used successfully for over 20 years, and is utilized by over 1,000 clinics worldwide.
