

Nothing can ruin a good meal like occasional indigestion and heartburn. Fortunately, Peptisol® can help. Peptisol works in three specific ways:

- Relieves symptoms of occasional indigestion, including pain, bloating, fullness, and nausea.* Human clinical trials have found that artichoke leaf extract and GutGard® (a proprietary extract of licorice root) both relieve the abdominal discomfort, bloating, and fullness that come with occasional indigestion, while ginger has been shown to gently soothe nausea.*
- Alleviates occasional heartburn: In a human study, GutGard slashed symptoms of occasional heartburn by more than half.*
- Promotes daily regularity: A recent human study found that artichoke extract promoted a normal bowel pattern in people with occasional constipation and occasional diarrhea.*
