

Vitamin C (ascorbic acid) is an essential part of the human body's growth and development, aiding in the repair of all body tissues. This water-soluble vitamin is involved in the absorption of iron, the formation of collagen, and the maintenance of teeth, bones, and cartilage. Furthermore, studies have found that it supports the immune system and even aids in wound healing.*

Suggested Use:
As an adult dietary supplement, take one capsule per day or as directed by your physician.*
