For supporting a healthy cholesterol response Cholestamin is the power of crude red sour grape, northern Pacific kelp, garlic, and whole food cumin seed powder.* Cumin helps stimulate the flow of bile. Crude red sour grape is rich in flavonoids. It also contains natural-source resveratrol and polyphenols. The Atlantic Ocean wild kelp and wild Mediterranean spices provide additional nutrients that make Cholestamin an ideal addition to any healthy diet.* Cocona, a South American fruit, has been studied for its powers in cholesterol and triglyceride support.*
