NutriHEMP Raw, Wild Blueberry Extreme packs the power of vegan protein plus the powers of micropulverized, high-antioxidant, wild blueberry powder. Protein is needed by every cell of the body and is maximized through the wild blueberry anthocyanins.* These anthocyanins are powerful antioxidants for protecting all the cells in the body, especially the eyes, brain, and digestive organs.* It's fortified with yacon, red sour grape, and wild chaga. Support your blood sugar, plus healthy weight loss, vision, brain function, and more, with NutriHEMP Raw.* It's so filling you won't even feel like eating a meal. Feel the strength and energy—always.*

For strength training use NutriHEMP Raw twice daily for building muscle.* It may be taken right before a workout. The amino acids in sprouted brown rice and hemp are completely bioavailable. Yacon and wild blueberry provide inulin, an important prebiotic (FOS). Wild chaga provides key nutrients and strength components, making protein digestion and assimilation more efficient.* No other protein powder is based on wild, natural extracts.

A true whole food, free of all GMOs.

NutriHEMP Raw, Raspberry Extreme is unique, because it combines two raw vegetable proteins—sprouted brown rice and hemp—with wild plant concentrates, raw raspberry powder and wild, raw chaga. All eight essential amino acids are present and absorption is maximized by the wild chaga and ketone-rich raspberry. This novel formula contains naturally occurring B vitamins and anthocyanins, which boost protein assimilation. The inulin from yacon provides additional digestive support.*
