Coconut water is an ancient source of hydration that has been consumed for centuries in tropical regions all around the world. The liquid is harvested from young, green coconuts around 6 months old to ensure maximum freshness and nutrition. It is a good source of potassium and a great way to stay naturally hydrated.

Our JAW Coconut Water is made from real coconuts sourced directly from pristine farms in India. We take this nutrient-rich liquid and put it through a careful evaporation and freeze-drying process that yields a super smooth and dissolvable powder packed with powerful electrolytes, minerals and a superior flavor.
