Mushrooms have been revered since ancient times and traditionally used to support general well-being and immune system health. Source Naturals MUSHROOM IMMUNE DEFENSE™ provides a blend of mushroom mycelia and extracts from over a dozen health-supportive species, including the well-studied shiitake, reishi, maitake, turkey tail, almond portabella and cordyceps. Preliminary studies suggest that mushrooms such as maitake and shiitake may support the healthy activity of natural killer (NK) cells, T-cells, macrophages and cytokines, which are all key components of a healthy immune system. By carefully combining mushroom mycelia and extracts, Source Naturals MUSHROOM IMMUNE DEFENSE offers a complete and robust mushroom product formulated to provide immune system support.*
