Omega-3 Fatty Acids are among the so-called "good fats" we should all be getting into our diets. And while all of our Omega-3s have been Molecularly Distilled to remove contaminants such as PCBs, mercury and heavy metals, many people are bothered by a "fishy" aftertaste when they incorporate Omega-3 softgels into their diets. This formulation undergoes steam deodorization, a process that removes those elements which create the aftertaste, while leaving intact all the beneficial attributes of the fish oils which supply the Omega-3's.
