Bhutanese Wild Cordyceps is one of the premier tonic herbs in the world. It has been used for centuries as a tonic, revered for its ability to improve performance and vitality, support healthy aging, and as a protective herb of the highest order. Cordyceps tonifies both Yin and Yang. Because of its superb balance, and lack of side effects, it can be used by almost anyone safely and over a long period of time. Bhutanese Wild Cordyceps is collected early each summer in the Himalayas. It is blended with premium cultured Cordyceps yielding a perfect Cordyceps elixir.*
