

64 wild tonic volunteer herbs (herbs that cannot be stopped), plus 20 superfoods

Traditionally and naturally fermented for 1 year in far-infrared emitting natural purple clay pots

This remarkable "enzymatic powdered elixir" is made mainly with wild herbs, with the addition of 20 superfoods. The herbs used are all categorized in Asia as "volunteer plants," meaning that they grow wild and are almost impossible to kill. Every herb in this powdered elixir has outrageous life force. The powdered elixir is painstakingly produced by the ancient method of slow-fermentation. It is still made in ceramic pots made from a special purple clay that has been used in China for over 5,000 years. The special microbial fermentation "starter" has been handed down for more than a thousand years as well. The result is a tangy-sweet, delicious powder that is absolutely easy for the body to digest and assimilate. Best used in your daily blender blast or smoothie. *
