Amla's original name, Amalaki,
translates to nurse, mother and immortal.
It was described in the ancient texts of Ayurveda as peerless amongst rejuvenating therapies.

This famous adaptogenic fruit of India was most often used to protect the vital force of the body and feed the lifeblood of the immune system, making it an impressive superfood.*

With decades of research conducted, its potential has now been observed in the immune and respiratory systems, as well as for skin appearance and overall detox function.*

HAPPINESS THROUGH WELLNESS

Crafting traditional medicines based on Ayurveda, a 5,000 year old science that believes the journey back to wholeness begins with nurturing the capacity for joy.

Trusting the gifts of nature and the irreplaceable relationship between the plant and its native soil for consistent healing properties.

Contributing to the wellness of the earth by teaching our family of farmers to grow native plants sustainably on their land and reduce the demand on the local environment.

Building communities by advocating women in farming, protecting fair prices, providing maternal health, sponsoring clinical services and offering school wellness programs.

Believing that if wellness is the path to happiness, we must contribute to the wellness of all things. Wellness of people, wellness of the environment, wellness of our communities.
