360 Easy-to-Swallow Capsules

Andrew Lessman's WORLD HEALTH concentrates on the goodness that Mother Nature delivers in her healthiest foods from around the world. For centuries, cultures throughout the world have associated certain foods with good health, and World Health delivers concentrates of eleven standardized extracts from those foods that have now been scientifically established as providing a multitude of naturally-occurring beneficial phytonutrients and anti-oxidants. World Health provides high levels of our special deodorized Garlic concentrate to deliver the myriad of health benefits associated with that staple of the healthy Mediterranean diet without an unpleasant aftertaste or odor. We also include a potent source of the anti-oxidant benefits of Cranberry, which has been used traditionally for centuries and is now confirmed to support urinary tract health. World Health also contains high levels of our concentrated, standardized extracts of both Green and White Tea, which are the standard beverages of the healthy Asian diet and two of the most concentrated sources of anti-oxidants available. In addition, World Health delivers standardized extracts of Bilberry to support eye health, along with the exceptionally powerful anti-oxidant benefits from standardized extracts of Red Wine, Grape Seed, Grape Skin, Apple Polyphenols, Citrus Bioflavonoids and Turmeric, to neutralize a broad range of damaging free radicals, thereby protecting the widest variety of tissues, organs and systems within the body. You can trust World Health because, unlike some ordinary products that may contain less reliable dried fruit and vegetable components, each ingredient in World Health is offered as a specially standardized extract or concentrate.
