Doctor Recommended Ingredients for Powerful Immune Support*

For years, doctors & medicinal experts have recommended the essential ingredients in our unique all-in-one formula to boost the immune system and help protect against environmental threats.* This powerful blend contains key ingredients that have been proven over time to be vital in supporting and promoting everyday immune health and well-being.*

Elderberry is naturally rich in polyphenols, anthocyanins and berry micronutrients that help boost the natural immune response.*

Vitamin C is an antioxidant that cells within the immune system need to function, especially natural defense cells phagocytes & T-cells.*

Vitamin D₃ is an important nutrient to help your immune system stay seasonally balanced.*

Zinc is an essential mineral that your body does not store and needs to intake daily. It helps the body to maintain healthy cells during seasonal challenges.*

Immune Max™ BLACK ELDERBERRY

Immune Max™ is formulated with immune-boosting nutrients: elderberry, zinc and vitamins C&D₃. At least 70% of your immune system resides in your digestive tract, and these key ingredients get absorbed in the intestines to help bolster your natural defenses and overall good health.*

Whole Food Elderberry with Prebiotic Fiber

Eldermune™ is a powerful combination of European whole food black elderberry and Sunfiber®, a prebiotic fiber. The European Haskberg-variety of elderberry in Eldermune™ naturally contains polyphenols, anthocyanins and berry micronutrients which are known to support immune health.*

Once ripe, big clusters of whole berries are picked and undergo a patented, ultra-filtration cold-press process to create a whole food extra virgin elderberry juice that preserves their natural goodness.

This juice is then mixed with Sunfiber®, a prebiotic soluble fiber, which has a synergistic effect on the absorption and digestion of the elderberry nutrients and helps feed good bacteria in the digestive tract.*
