WHAT IS GLUTAMINE?

Glutamine is the most abundant amino acid in the human body. It's essential for muscle protein synthesis, post-workout fatigue, and recovery.* When your body is depleted of glutamine, such as after an intense workout, you'll want to restore your glutamine levels right afterward to help with muscle protein synthesis and reduce muscle breakdown.*

WHY KAGED BCAAs?

Many glutamine supplements on the market are from shellfish, human hair, and bird feathers which are not the best sources of L-Glutamine. Fermented L-Glutamine is the purest L-Glutamine you can buy. It's vegan, non-GMO, and third-party tested. Cheaply priced glutamine is generally indicative of low-quality raw materials used in manufacturing. With Micropure® Glutamine by Kaged®, you can be assured that you are getting high-quality free-form glutamine.
