

Naturally occurring in red wine, resveratrol has been clinically shown to support healthy metabolism, normal insulin sensitivity, and healthy blood flow.*

Now we can amplify these benefits with Resveratrol-SR™, which provides resveratrol in a special micronized, sustained-release matrix. This means the resveratrol is released over time, so it stays in the blood longer and is therefore active longer.*

A human study showed that compared with regular resveratrol, Resveratrol-SR achieves higher blood levels over a longer time, is 2.5x more bioavailable, and delivers sustained release over 12 hours.*
