

Throughout most of recorded history, our ancestors utilized whole-animal nutrition, where the cartilaginous tissue of grass-fed, pastured animals was frequently consumed in traditional diets. Rich in bioactive compounds including Undenatured Type II Collagen and chondroitin sulfate, Enviromedica Cartilage Collagen provides a concentrated matrix of naturally occurring nutrients in their correct physiological ratios. This ancient nutritional powerhouse plays a fundamental role in supporting healthy joints, cartilage, and immune function.*

OUR PROMISE

Premium foundational products to support the body's ancestral biology.

NEW ZEALAND - THE PREMIERE SOURCE

Enviromedica Cartilage Collagen is sourced exclusively from grass-fed livestock raised on the rich open pastures of New Zealand, where animal husbandry practices are globally considered as second to none. Fresh tracheal cartilage is gently freeze-dried to preserve biological activity and nutrient content.
