HEPATIC SYSTEM SUPPORT*

The human liver is a complex biochemical processing plant. It's the metabolic mastermind of the human body, affecting digestion, metabolism and detoxification. In Chinese Medicine, the liver is "home of the wood element", the element of life. All of the blood from the digestive tract goes through the hepatic vein before being allowed into general circulation. Traditionally used to support proper liver function, the ingredients in this 30-day Hepatic System program work together to help protect and nourish the body's largest internal organ.*
