

Exposed: The Secret Extreme Technique Used by Bodybuilding's Super Freaks to Trigger Blood Engorging, Vein Popping Muscle Pumps and Force Muscle Growth!

EPO BLOOD DOPING TECHNOLOGY

DARK RAGE™ introduces a new pump inducing technology that goes far beyond nitric oxide. Compounds called Erythropoietin Stimulating Agents (ESAs) are being used by bodybuilding's elite to induce muscle pumps and muscle growth far beyond nitric oxide or anything else ever used. These controversial ESAs have been a closely guarded secret of the bodybuilding underground because they really cross the line and push physiological limits to the edge. DARK RAGE is the first legally available ESA and blows the cover on this closely guarded secret. Bodybuilders everywhere are reporting the most amazing pumps and gains in rock hard muscle ever.

What makes DARK RAGE's pump so immense is its ability to stimulate the release of a powerful hormone called erythropoietin (EPO), which increases red blood cell production and blood volume. The truth is that a pump is the result of delivering more blood to muscle tissue, so while the use of ingredients like AAKG and Arginine are somewhat effective by causing vasodilation, they do NOT increase blood volume. DARK RAGE's dual EPO-NO action causes what scientists call "hemodynamic blood plasma vasodilation". What this means is a larger supply of EPO induced blood is simultaneously being transported through nitric oxide induced vasodilated veins and capillaries to muscle tissue. This increased blood supply not only increases the size and effects of the muscle pump, it also has a profound anabolic muscle building effect as it engorges your muscle tissue with DARK RAGE's other active ingredients like creatine, beta-alanine, BCAAs, AAKG, Arginine and many more. An increase in blood supply also means increased oxygen supply, so it will enhance muscle performance and delay muscle fatigue.*

The bottom line is Nitric Oxide isn't enough...To build more muscle and better pumps, you need to build more blood! Take your training to the next level with the next-generation pre-workout formula...DARK RAGE!

Vascular Dilation and Muscle Pump Comparison

Former Leading Nitric Oxide Pre-workout Supplement

- Enhanced vasodilation occurs.
- Muscle pump is increased.
- Moderate delivery of nutrients and energy substrates occurs.

Next Generation Dark Rage EPO/Nitric Oxide Pre-workout Supplement

- Ultra-enhanced hemodynamic blood plasma vasodilation occurs.
- Muscle pump is greatly increased from dual action Nitric Oxide boosting and EPO's red blood cell and blood volume building.
- Increased blood supply forces vascular expansion and maximum delivery of Dark Rage's complete pre-workout ingredient matrix.
- High levels of energy substrates, anabolic hormones, psychotropic factors and anabolic activators are increased for optimal performance and highly anabolic muscle pumps.
