

Maca (Lepidium meyenii) is a radish-like root native to the Peruvian Andes. This powerful adaptogen helps improve energy and endurance.* Gelatinized maca uses a heat-based extrusion process to remove the starch from the root. This results in a more concentrated and easier-to-digest maca powder, especially beneficial for anyone with a sensitive stomach or who has trouble digesting raw vegetables of the brassica (cabbage) family. Gelatinized maca in capsules offers a convenient way to benefit from maca.

Suggested Use: Adults, start with 1 VeganCap™ and gradually work up 2 VeganCaps daily, or as advised by a qualified health care professional.
