Synergistic Adrenal & Endocannabinoid System Support†

Everyone experiences stress from time to time and these stressors can be taxing on the body's adrenals. As part of the endocrine system, adrenal glands play an important role in almost every bodily function. The endocannabinoid system (ECS) contains receptors throughout the central and peripheral nervous system, and is a key system for regulating homeostasis.† With the adrenals being closely integrated with the ECS, our Adrenal Support with Endocannabinoid System Booster is designed to support and nourish both of these primary stress-modulating systems.† Formulated with essential B-Vitamins for healthy adrenal gland function and adaptogens ashwagandha and rhodiola to promote a positive response to stress.† Magnesium, GABA and L-theanine are added for their calming actions.† A premium blend of DHA, Cocoa, Maca and PABA provide cannabimimetic activity and positive support for the ECS.† Our unique formula is designed to support the adrenal glands and stress-modulating systems of the body to help cope with the changes that life can bring.†
