BUILD A STRONG FOUNDATION

At some point in every athlete's career, they need basic, fundamental products in order to achieve their fitness goals. All too often, top tier supplement brands only focus on combination products that contain an assortment of ingredients specifically formulated to produce narrow results. While these products are often good at achieving their intended results, many athletes need custom-tailored formulas for their individual lifestyle and fitness goals. With our Purus Labs® Foundation Series™, we've applied the same care and dedication to these more simplistic, individual components that we do to our goal-oriented products. Just as you can trust our proteins, pre workouts and amino products, you can trust our Foundation Series™ products to deliver exceptional results, unrelenting quality, and unwavering commitment to our customers' goals and dreams.

NOTICE: Use Mass Gain once daily or as directed by your nutritionist or physician to reach your fitness and physique goals. Follow the preparation instructions detailed below for optimal consistency.
