

The Peruvian Secret for Energy & Vitality

As the only edible food crop that flourishes at the high altitudes of Peru's central highlands, Maca has been grown and consumed there as far back as 1,600 B.C. Maca's traditional uses as an energizing sexual tonic and fertility-enhancing food have been well-documented in modern medical studies.*

Our Maca powder contains Certified Organically Grown Lepidium meyenii roots from Peruvian highland fields we have personally visited and approved. The roots are hand-harvested and then steam-cooked (gelatinized) to enhance Maca's health-promoting properties.
