This is more than a superfood.

It's packed with nutrients from a blend of acai and goji berries, blueberries, blackberries and raspberries. And it delivers vitamin C for immunity support[∞] from acerola cherries we grow on our nearly 6,000 acres of certified organic farmland. Plus, there's nutrients from fresh elderberry that we harvest on certified organic partner farms. They carefully nurture each plant from seed to soil to you, just like we do. All of which grows the organic community. So it's not just a superfood. It's super good.
