ANTI-GLYCATION SUPPORT™

Anti-Glycation Support™ provides important nutrients that maintain healthy blood sugar levels to assist in lessening the process of protein glycation.

Did you know?

- AGES (Advanced Glycation End Products) are a group of compounds that form when dietary sugars bind to proteins, lipids (fats), or nucleic acids (DNA or RNA) in the body.
- AGES are known to accumulate in tissues over time.
- AGES can increase free radical activity contributing to skin cell damage as well as other health concerns during the aging process.
- AGES can accumulate in various tissues, reducing skin elasticity and overall health.

AGES Process

Glycation produces AGES which damage the collagen network
