Caution: Do not consume more than 2.4 grams of supplemental phenylalanine per day. Not for use by children, pregnant or lactating women, persons with the genetic metabolic disorder, PKU, psychosis, persons taking prescription MAO (monoamine oxidase) inhibitor drugs, pigmented malignant melanoma cancer patients, those with Wilson's disease, or those with a violent temper. Not for use by anyone sensitive to any of the ingredients. Excessive consumption of L-phenylalanine or caffeine may cause insomnia, especially when taken in the late afternoon or evening. If insomnia occurs, reducing the amount consumed by half will usually correct the problem. If insomnia is a problem, we suggest taking LIFT CAPS™ only once per day for the first week, right after you arise in the morning. During the second week and thereafter, take it twice per day, upon arising and an hour before lunch.
