It's fun to feel good.

Jigsaw Adrenal Cocktail™ combines 400mg of Wholefood Vitamin C, Potassium Bicarbonate, and SaltWorks® Sea Salt in a unique formulation designed to support healthy adrenal gland function.*

Vitamin C plays a critical role in adrenal performance, including the ability to produce numerous hormones. In fact, the highest concentration of Vitamin C in your body is stored by your adrenal glands. Additionally, sodium and potassium are delicately balanced in your adrenals and are both vital minerals for normal adrenal function.*

Finally, stressed adrenals deplete your body's supply of magnesium. So complementing Jigsaw Magnesium supplements with Jigsaw Adrenal Cocktail™ will help your body use magnesium more effectively.*

Since chiropractic school I've suffered with burnt out adrenals. Using this product makes me feel better! I have more energy, a clear mind, and wake up easier in the morning without feeling groggy. Now that I've personally experienced the benefits of Jigsaw's Adrenal Cocktail I recommend it to all my patients. — Ashley R.

What are the adrenal glands and what do they do in your body? Your adrenal glands are walnut-shaped organs that sit above your kidneys. These "tiny but mighty" glands are essential to life and responsible for secreting a range of critical hormones. When you're faced with a great deal of stress, your adrenal glands become overworked, exhausted, and depleted of the essential nutrients they need to function properly.*
